If you want to hear some real genuine singing, sure enough singing, don't fail to hear the Jubilee singers at the courthouse Saturday night Nov. 17. They come under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' association. Everybody come.

FOR SALE—One good Star Piano, slightly used at a great bargain. Price $190.—Lamb Piano Co., 727 Church St. Nashville, Tenn.

Edwin Reeves was painfully hurt Wednesday night while out hunting by falling from a tree. He was assisted home by Dero Darwin, who had accompanied him on the hunt. He was reported to be suffering considerably Thursday morning, and it is feared that he is hurt internally.

H. H. Johnson, of Goodlettsville, was in Gainesboro and other parts of the county this week buying sheep. Mr. Johnson is a former resident of this county. He says it looks like the sheep industry of the county is lagging and wanted to know why it was that the farmers didn't raise more sheep and fewer dogs.

T. J. Draper, wife and son, J. M. Draper, have returned from Camp Jackson, Columbia, S. C., where they visited their son, Jim. Mr. Draper is much better satisfied about the boys since making the trip. Says they are not doing anything much except eating and having a good time in general. They are well fed and taken care of and are looking fine and dandy.

Teachers' Examination.

The next examination for teachers will be Dec. 20th, and 21st.

It is expected that every teacher that had an assistant report the time the assistant taught, so that I will know for how much to issue warrants.

Respectfully,
W. L. Dixon.

FISK JUBILEE QUARTET.

This famous quartet will appear at the courthouse Saturday, Nov. 17, 8 p. m. The folk songs of these darkey singers are wonderful to hear. Prof. Works, who is one of the quartet and manager of it, is considered one of the best of the singers. He is professor of Latin and History in Fisk University.

Camp's Strength Continues to Grow in Jackson County.

Jno. L. McCawley, manager for Harry Camp in his race for Chancellor in Jackson county, when seen by a local newspaper man today (Thursday) gave out the following interview:

"The people of Jackson county have learned, that in the person of Harry Camp, we have strong clean candidate for Chancellor, and they are rallying to his support in the most enthusiastic manner. He has never held office, and his family has been rather conspicuous in that, the members have never held office, except, that two of Harry Camps grandfathers once held office as Justices of the Peace for their home people.

"Nearly all of the soldier boys who recently left for mobilization camps, voted by registered mail before leaving. About 80 per cent of these boys voted for Camp, and if their votes are any indication of the lay of the land, Camp will carry this county largely. It seems as if the boys who must face shot and shell feel that these offices should be passed around, and not allow any one man to hold office during his natural life."

An Appeal For Our Boys In Khaki.

The Y. M. C. A. an institution that is furnishing the soldier boys large, handsome commodious buildings furnished with large library of good books, magazines, news papers, religious instructions, moving picture shows etc. all free is in need of $35,000,000.

I hope every teacher in the county will contribute to this cause as liberal as possible. Have each of your pupils, if possible, give 5 cents. Send money to me and I will give it the secretary and treasury, Frank Gailbreath, or send it direct to Mr. Gailbreath.

Luke C. Quarles is chairman of the contributing campaign committee for this county. He is appointing men to solicit contributions from those of the various vocations, the lawyers, the officials, the merchants, the farmers the teachers etc. I am to solicit from the teachers. I do hope the teachers will not fall behind in this matter. If you have a brother, a relative or a friend in the camps it means so much to him. Are you willing to make his hours pleasant to him when he is not on duty? If you are I urge you to show your willingness by contributing at once. The money is needed now. Believing that every teacher will earnestly and calmly consider the matter and contribute.

I am respectfully
W. L. Dixon

Liberty Loan Subscribers Praised by Soldier
All Must Help If Germany is Defeated.
Kaiser's Prayer Quoted.

can never win the war alone. If the people we left behind us don't help, we will lose. The thing for them to do is to not worry while we are gone, for they will be fighting too. If they fail us we will fail also, for we have to be fed, clothed and furnished with munitions, with which to fight, if we would win. This is no boys job, we have a man's job ahead of us. We can only be men and play the man's part. Just because one does not wear the olive drab, is no reason he or she should neglect his or her duty.

The liberties our fore-fathers fought and died for is at stake. Its up to us to do our bit, and defend it, and as we are having to go into it, lets all go, and go to win. If we fail to win we can only imagine what the outcome will be. Its very much like the "Kaiser's prayer," (which I guess you have all read) and which goes like this:

You know I got dem submarines,
All Europe knows dot well,
But dot man Edison got a patent now,

Vot blows dem all to H—ll
Now, Gott if you will do dis,
Den you I will always love,
Und I will be der emperor on earth,
Und you der emperor above.

But Gott, if you refuse to do dis,
Tomorrow night at 'leven,
I vill out my Zeppelins,
Und declare war on Heaven.

I think this is very much in line with his thoughts, judging from his movements. So lets all go together to win, and win or die.

Respt,
Hermon E. Brown.

Hilman Trousdale Dies in Training Camp.

until his death, making a good record.

He had made a host of friends by his honesty, integrity, good humor and pleasant smiles. He had a friendly word for every one and scattered sunshine wherever he went among old and young. He will be greatly missed by all.

Father, mother, brother and near ones, a part of the sunshine is gone from your lives, a loved one is gone from your homes, and no one can fill his place, and we your friends and sympathizers, can only say, trust God's righteous judgement, and ask Him for strength and courage to endure the burdens He placed on you, and who knows, but that when God is through with us here we may again see the face that is gone, for he might have sought Christ unknown to us.

His body was placed in the cemetery at Red Boiling Springs, Tenn., witnessed by a host of friends and relatives, Nov. 7th 1917, at 11 o'clock.

Soldiers Leave for Camp.

Seventy Jackson county boys left this week for Camp Gordon, Ga. Although the weather was very gloomy and inclement a large number of citizens and relatives were here to tell them farewell. Before entering the cars that carried them to the station, the boys were lined up on the north side of the square to face the camera, after which they were treated to some fine Havana cigars and boxes of candies, by the ladies of the town. All went away with a smile, and from all outside appearances they were proud of having been chosen to fight for our liberty and freedom.
